JULY 28th PNWA SHOW AND SALE

For our first attempt at this endeavor, we could not have been more please with the outcome. From 9am to 3pm closing time, we had a steady flow of visitors. We acquired 2 new members and a host of others who showed an interest in checking out one of our meetings.

The variety of wood art made for beautiful displays and included carvings, turnings, intarsia, driftwood sculpture and chain saw art. Gordon Day provided a wonderful demonstration of carving and Bob Morgenstern demonstrated sculpting his project in clay as part of his planning process. They both included displays of completed work so the public could see the stages involved.

Dave Tremko and associates provided a great draw for the public with their creations from tree stump to completed art. He said he sold all of his chain-saw art. Sales were good for many of our members which included commissions for custom pieces

You can not put on one of the events without the help and support of the members. Thanks for all the work in acquiring donations, giving donations, setting up, tearing down, making signs, showing your work, selling raffle tickets, promoting club membership, cleaning up and bringing refreshments.

The following people were on the planning committee: Gordon Day, Barbara LaRue, Gale Lawrence-Krum, Bob Morgenstern, Jeanne Iversen, Ione Andrews, Al Popowski, Kye Starbird, Ann Grover

The following people displayed and/or sold their work and in some cases demonstrated their creative process:

Gordon Day, Barbara LaRue, Gale Lawrence-Krum, Bill Lohnes, Chris Hansen, Ken Martin, Pat Bartlett and Peg Lawrence, Bob Morgenstern, Pat Donlin, Al and Kathy Popowski, Glenn Greathouse, Dave Tremko

Besides the donations from local merchants and the non- wood art donations, the following members donated their original art to the Silent Auction or Raffle: Pat Bartlett, Pat Donlin, Bill Lohnes, Don Porter, Gordon Day, Chris Hansen, Ann Grover and J Brzoska

The following people took care of selling tickets, providing PNWA literature, bringing goodies, and making coffee for the workers: Kye Starbird, Donna Day, Ione Andrews, Pat Bartlett, Pat Donlin, Gale and Barbara.

The Show's income and expense report will be provided at the Sept. meetings.
